Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 24 October 2007.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 7 recites the limitation "a cumulative bandwidth error [that] determines the accumulated amount of available bandwidth for transmitting the source digital video signal and is adjusted to increase the available bandwidth." The metes and bounds of this limitation are entirely unclear to the examiner because it is unclear to the examiner how an "error" can "determine" anything or be "increased." The examiner will treat the claim on the merits as best understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 1, 3-5, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Davies (US 7,043,749).

Regarding claim 1, Davies teaches a method of providing one-way video transmission and corresponding interactive two-audio communication to remote recipients accessing the Internet via a world wide computer network, the method comprising the steps of:

a) creating at a video source location (205) a source digital video signal corresponding to a viewed source (figure 2);

b) broadcast transmitting the source digital video signal at substantially the same time the source digital video signal is created, wherein the source digital video signal is transmitted through a one-way transmission channel for carrying a signal with only video content to at least one recipient via an internet connection (transmitted through PSTN, ISDN, LAN, or ATM) (figure 2);

c) transmitting a source digital audio signal created at a audio source location (104) and corresponding to the source digital video signal to the at least one recipient over an Internet connection via a VoIP protocol, wherein the source digital audio signal is a two-way signal that is transmitted on a channel separate from the one-way transmission channel (transmitted on PSTN, ISDN, or PBX) (figure 2); and

d) transmitting a recipient audio signal created at a recipient location (204) and responsive to the source audio signal or the source video signal, wherein the recipient audio signal is transmitted from the recipient location to the digital audio source location via an Internet connection (ISDN) (figure 2).

Regarding claim 3, Davies teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising the source digital video signal being activated when the at least one recipient accesses an IP address corresponding to the source digital video signal (see figure 2, where both connections can be ISDN connections).

Art Unit: 2153

Regarding claim 4, Davies teaches the method of claim 1, wherein the source location of the source digital video signal and the source location of the source digital audio signal comprise two separate servers (figure 2, 104 and 205).

Regarding claim 5, Davies teaches the method of claim 1, wherein the two separate servers each have an assigned IP address (figure 2).

Claim 7 is rejected for the same reasons as claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2 and 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Davies (US 7,043,749) in view of Lee (US 6,789,120).

Davies teaches steps a-d of claim 2 (see the rejection of claim 1), but does not teach the web page claimed in steps e-f of claim 2.

In a similar art, Lee teaches such a web page for displaying/playing video/audio signals in video conferences (column 4, lines 44-59).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to utilize a web page as disclose by Lee to display/play the video/audio signals in the instant case, thereby providing a convenient means for contacting the recipient.

Claim 6 is rejected for the same reasons as claim 2.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Philip S. Scuderi whose telephone number is (571) 272-5865. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 9:00 am - 5:30 pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Glenton B. Burgess can be reached on (571) 272-3949. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
